

A fuller agenda. Measurable change.

Built from the April shareholder survey: stronger finances, better project control, responsive management, open governance, and a building that protects quality of life and long-term value.

74% rated board communication 1 or 2

89% want more decision visibility

51% prioritized financial management

25+ mentions: finish facade work

THE SHAREHOLDER PLATFORM

01 Clear, dependable communication

Weekly major-project updates; a concise monthly Board digest; plain-language reasons for significant decisions and prompt notice when targets slip.

02 Financial discipline and foresight

A multi-year reserve and capital roadmap; budget-versus-actual reporting; careful review of borrowing, assessments, major contracts, and long-term risks.

03 Finish the facade. Control every project.

Named project ownership, milestones, scope, budget, risks, contractor accountability, and schedule reporting - beginning with facade work and scaffolding removal.

04 Responsive, accountable management

A two-business-day acknowledgment standard for routine inquiries, a visible escalation path, service tracking, and regular managing-agent performance review.

05 Protect property value

Prioritize preventive maintenance, disciplined operations, curb appeal, and investments that keep 505 financially strong and competitive for current and future shareholders.

06 Simple, consistent rules and approvals

Make renovation, alteration, sublet, and other approval processes clear, timely, and consistent. Publish plain-language requirements, owners, timelines, and escalation paths.

07 Simple, fair, independent elections

Use one clear calendar, neutral candidate information, equal ballot access, and independent administration. In 2026, the Board chose the committee chair and all six incumbent applicants were recommended.

08 Shareholder access and participation

Hold quarterly forums, provide Zoom access, make the Annual Meeting available virtually, use regular surveys, and create respectful channels for shareholder ideas and feedback.

FIRST 100 DAYS: PUT THE NEW STANDARD IN WRITING

01 Publish the communication and response calendar

02 Issue a facade and major-project status baseline

03 Begin the reserve, capital, and vendor review

04 Publish the election calendar and schedule a hybrid forum
