Survey methodology: anonymous Google Form distributed to the 505 East 79th Street WhatsApp group, April 2026. 55 responses received. Respondents are self-selected members of the building's shareholder group; results are directional, not a randomized sample.

Satisfaction with Overall Direction

"How satisfied are you with the overall direction of the co-op?" (1 = Very Dissatisfied, 5 = Very Satisfied)

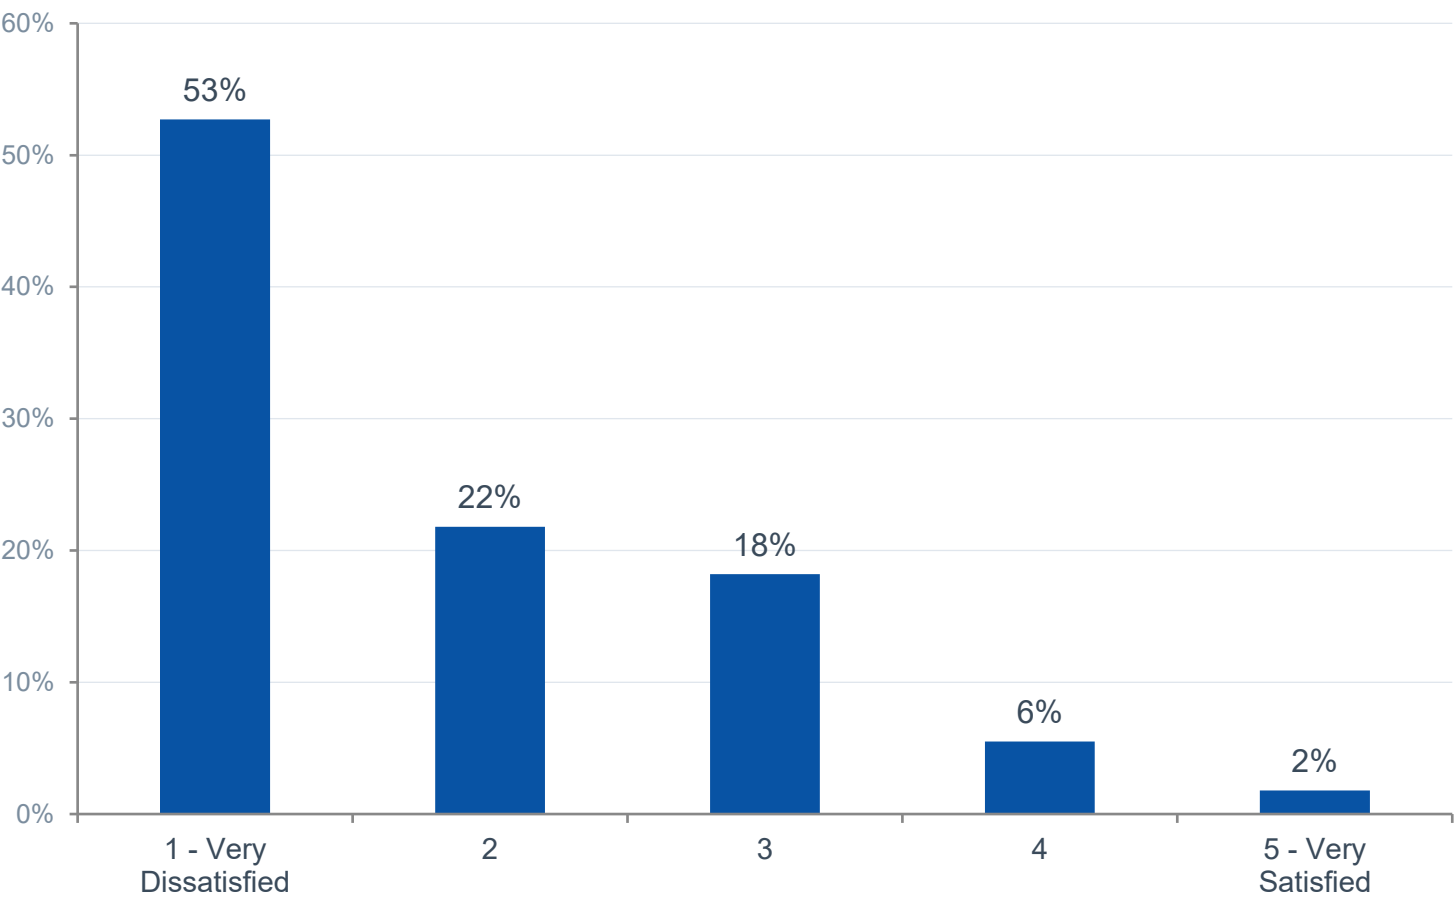

2.87

Average Score

Overall satisfaction was mixed, with an average score of 2.87 and only 25% of respondents rating the co-op's direction a 4 or 5.

Satisfaction with Board Communication

"How satisfied are you with communication from the board?" (1 = Very Dissatisfied, 5 = Very Satisfied)

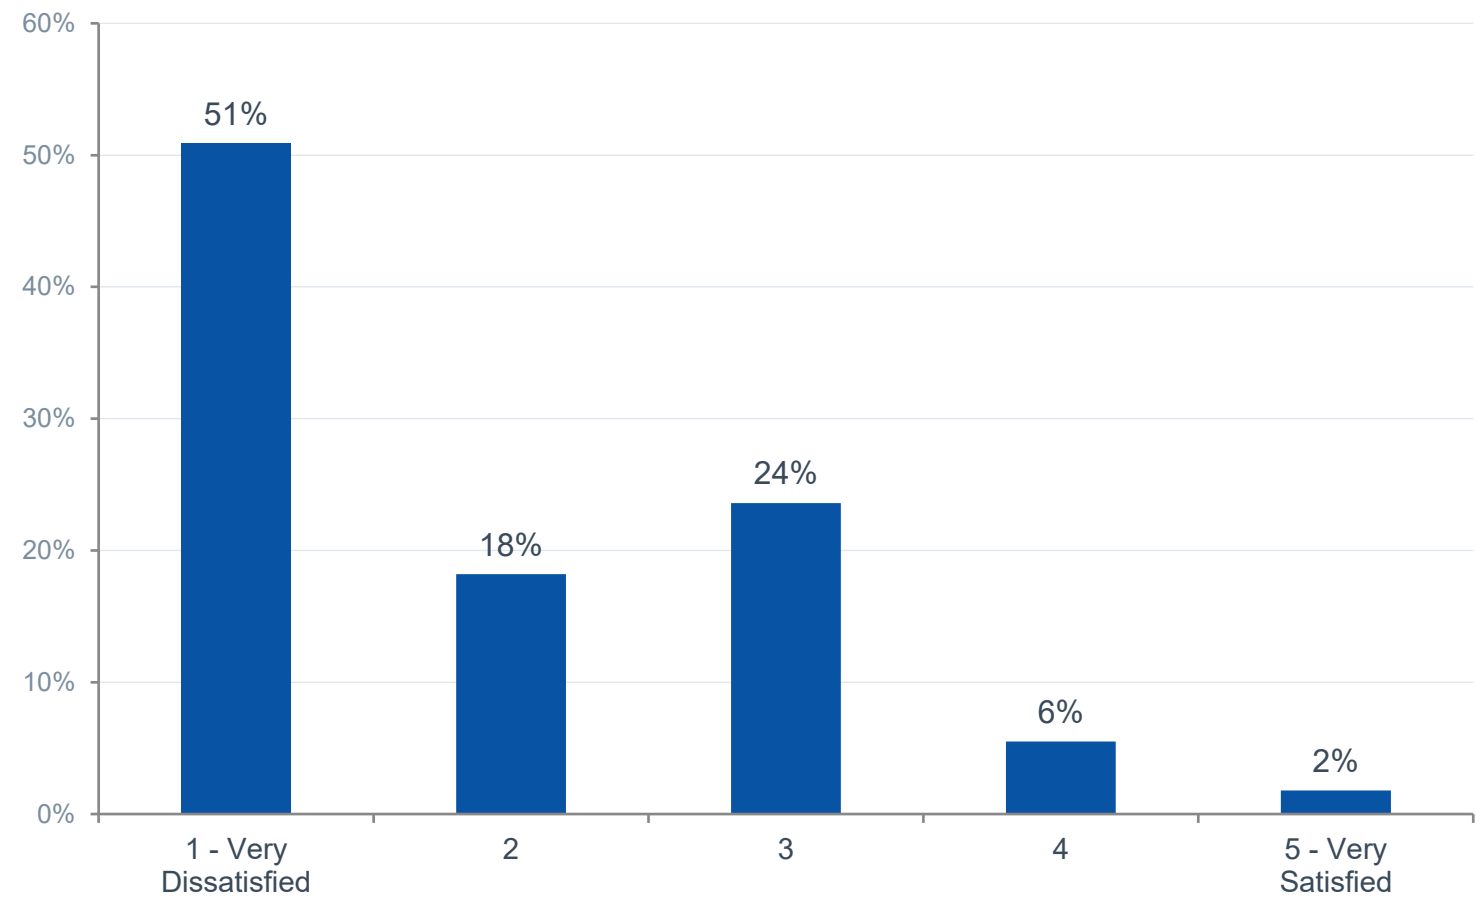

1.82

Average Score

Board communication received the lowest ratings in the survey, with 74% of respondents rating it a 1 or 2 and 51% giving the lowest possible score.

Satisfaction with Managing Agent Communication

"How satisfied are you with communication from the managing agent?" (1 = Very Dissatisfied, 5 = Very Satisfied)

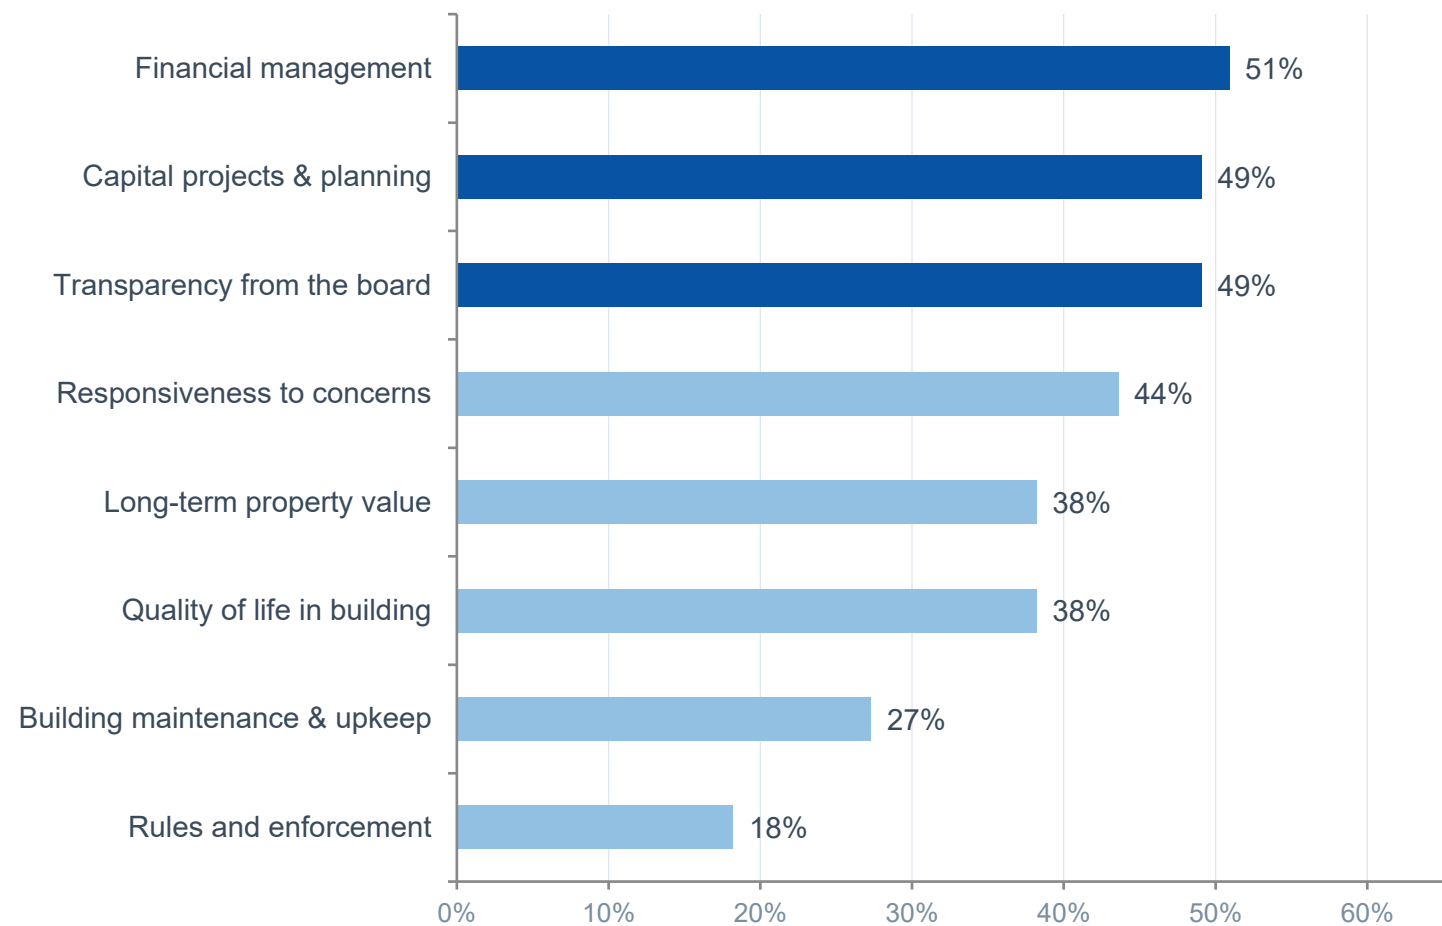

1.89

Average Score

Managing agent communication was also rated poorly, with 68% of respondents rating it a 1 or 2 and nearly half giving the lowest possible score.

Most Important Issues Right Now

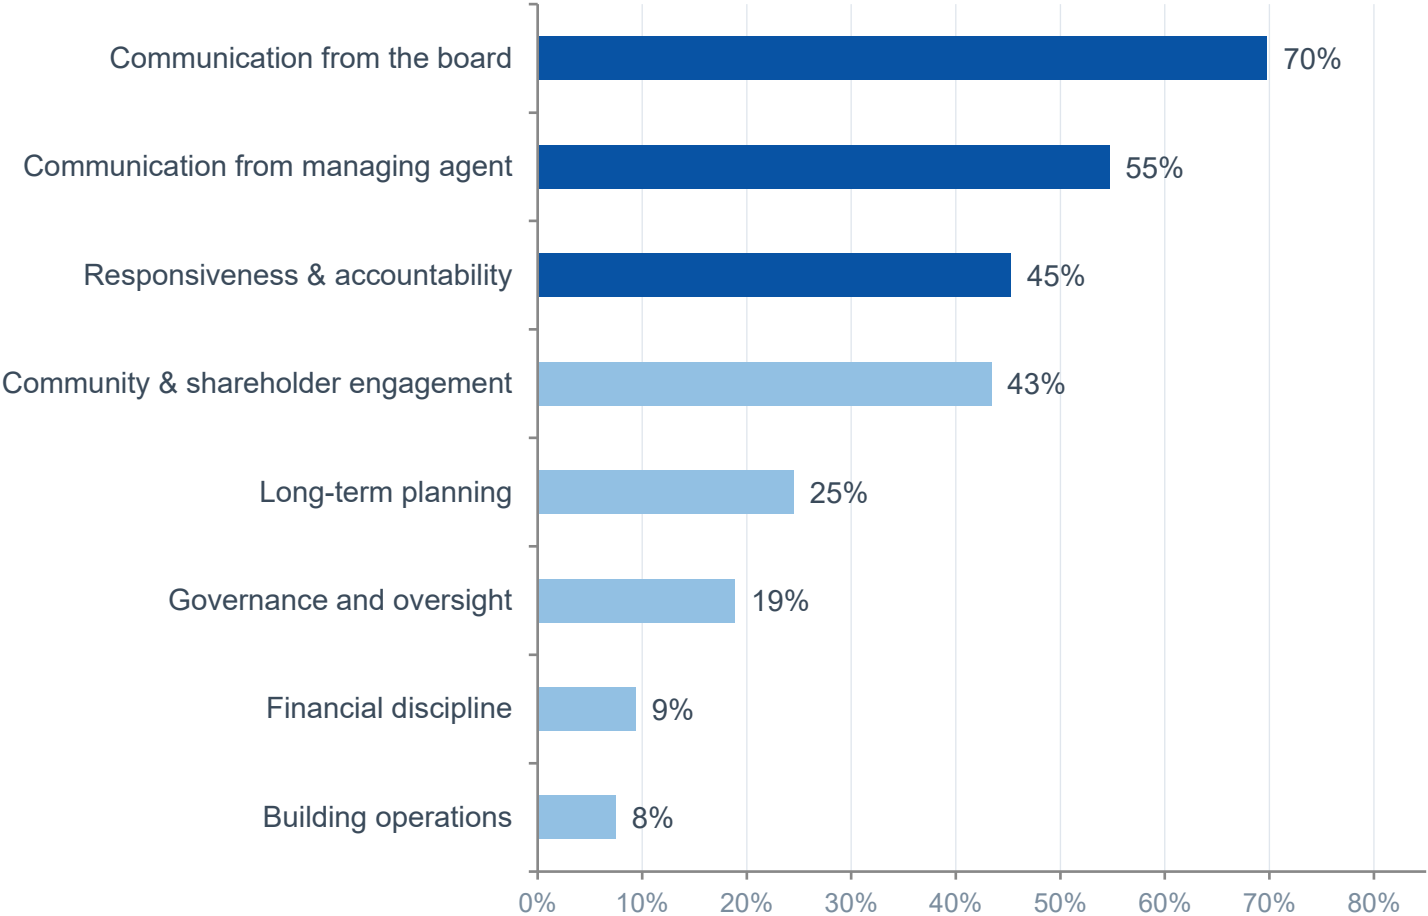

"Which of the following issues are most important to you right now?" (Select up to 3)

Financial management, capital planning, and transparency from the board emerged as the most frequently selected priorities

Where Shareholders See the Greatest Opportunity for Improvement

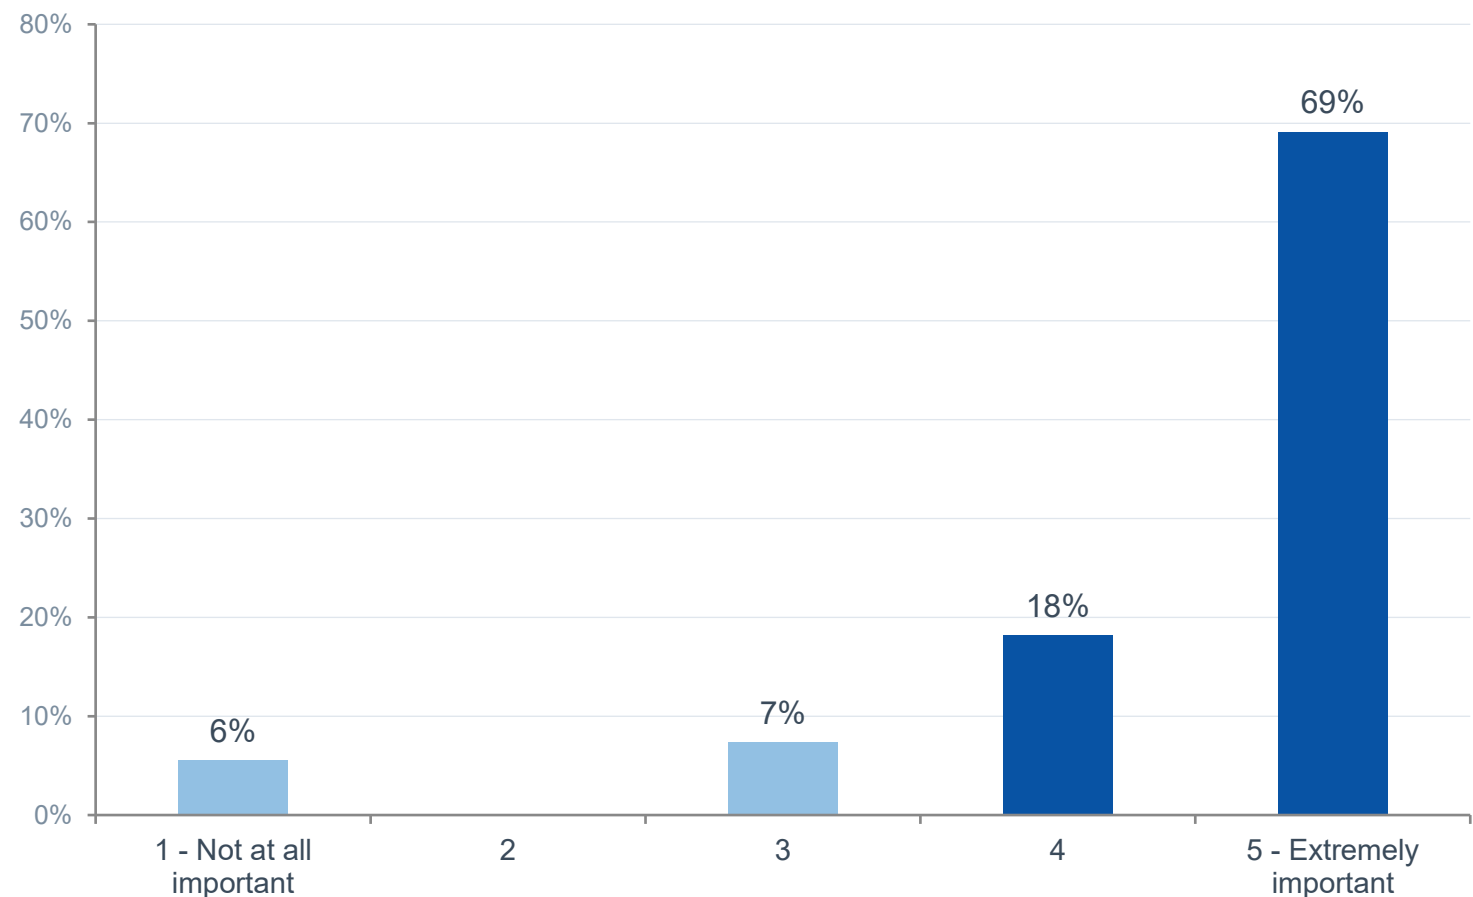

"In which areas do you believe there is the greatest opportunity for improvement?" (Select up to 3)

Communication from the board ranked as the leading area for improvement, followed by communication from the managing agent and responsiveness/accountability.

Demand for Transparency

"How important is it to you that shareholders have greater visibility into board priorities and decision-making?"

4.45

Average Score

Transparency emerged as a clear priority, with 89% rating greater visibility into board priorities and decision-making as a 4 or 5.

Desired Qualities in Board Members

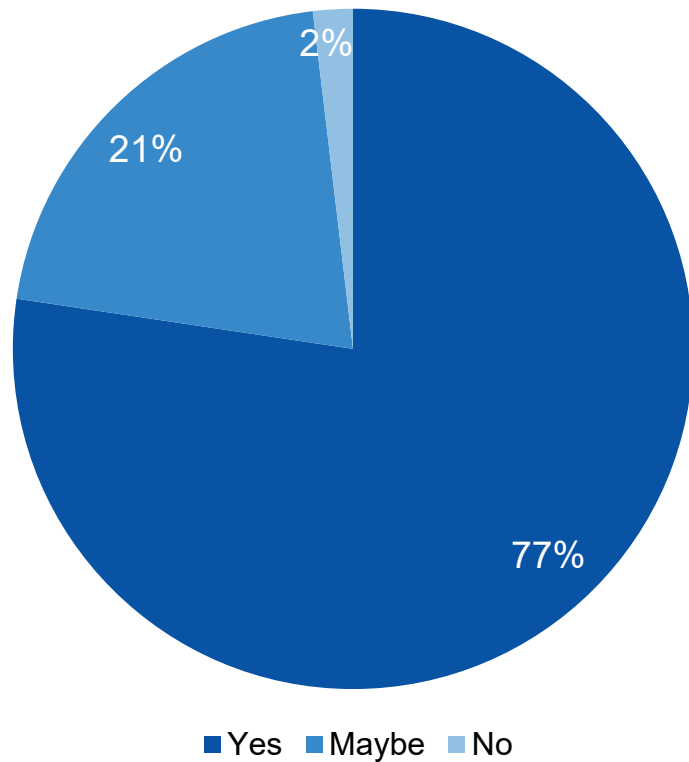

"Which qualities would you most like to see in board members going forward?" (Select up to 3)

Shareholders prioritized financial expertise, communication, strategic thinking, and responsiveness in future board leadership.

Interest in Greater Shareholder Participation

“Would you be open to supporting qualified shareholders who are interested in greater involvement in co-op governance?”

Respondents expressed meaningful openness to broader participation in co-op governance, with 77% saying yes and 21% saying maybe to supporting new shareholders in governance.

What Should Be the Board's Top Priorities?

Among the survey's open-ended responses, three themes appeared most frequently.

Finish the Facade / Remove Scaffolding

25+ mentions

"Getting rid of the scaffolding as quickly as possible, not wasting money by being inefficient."

Financial Transparency & Discipline

15+ mentions

"Provide shareholders with a detailed long-term financial plan."

Better Communication & Governance

12+ mentions

"We are on a "need to know basis" and afforded zero opportunity to provide feedback that is taken seriously."

What Could the Managing Agent Do Better?

One theme appeared far more often than others.

Respond to Emails, Calls, and Inquiries

30+ mentions

“My emails typically take 5 reminders.”

Accountability & Professionalism

10+ mentions

“Remind themselves that they work for us and respond to us.”

Consistency and Fairness in Shareholder Service

Multiple mentions

“Communication is often unclear, or new rules are thrown at us without explanation.”

Other Concerns and Suggestions

Various shareholders shared additional thoughts.

Board Tenure, Turnover, and Governance

“The president has been in charge for 30 years. It’s time for change.”

Building Amenities and Use of Shared Space

“We want a vote and a financial analysis for a gym, children’s playroom, and outdoor space.”

Shareholder Experience and Sense of Ownership

“I never thought I would feel like a renter in my own home, but I do.”

Construction Fatigue and Project Management

“The way local law 11 and the scaffolding has been handled has been very poor.”

Next Steps

The survey made clear that many shareholders want better communication, greater transparency, and broader participation in governance. The next several weeks will be critical

1

Convert Interest into a Credible Slate

Sixteen shareholders have already expressed interest in taking a more active role in co-op governance. We will now move quickly to identify who is prepared to serve on the board and shareholders will have the opportunity to indicate which candidates they would most support.

2

Build Support Ahead of the Annual Meeting

Because time is limited, the next phase will require focused outreach to shareholders, alignment around a credible slate, and, where appropriate, collection of proxies in advance of the annual meeting.

3

Share the Results More Broadly

A concise summary of the survey findings, along with a call to action, will be distributed to shareholders who are not currently in the WhatsApp group so they can review the results and participate in the process.

Thank You

To the shareholders who took the time to share their views.
